Yunbit Employee Portal

An internal communication tool with your company's corporate image.

About Yunbit

Over 15 years offering business solutions

Yunbit, which was founded in Madrid in 2004 and is a pioneer in SaaS format application development, has developed a multi-tenant cloud computing technology platform that helps its customers improve the business management of the different departmental processes of all types of companies.

Yunbit adapts to an organization's different needs and to any changes in the market. By believing in innovation and adding value to every company we work with, we offer comprehensive technological support.

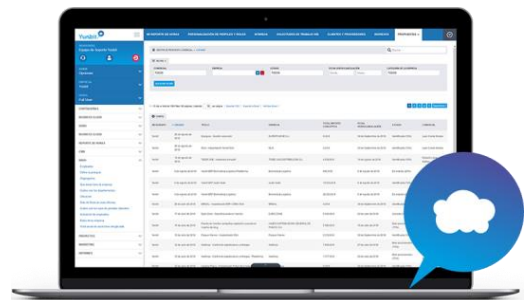

Our ample experience in technological and business consulting is what makes changes in organizations possible, thanks to a change management methodology that is adapted to the characteristics and dimensions of the organizations that trust in us.

What Yunbit brings to your organization

Experience, since 2004, implementing innovative technological tools adapted to each one of our customers.

Cloud natives, our trajectory brings reliability to the way we work and the way we approach each project. Accessibility, our platform is based on a single web access point for all the company's information, making it all connected and automated under a multi-tenant cloud computing model.

Visibility, an environment that makes decision-making easier with an overall perspective and all the data and processes connected and automated. Integration of other Yunbit and third-party products to offer more flexibility. A single, multifunctional interdepartmental web access point. 100% Adaptable to the company's image, structure and processes. Multi-sectoral expertise, we can handle any project. Multidisciplinary team, different professional profiles with the same objective. Evolving maintenance strategies, we strive to keep our platform up-to-date with the latest market developments and our customers' expectations.

Yunbit, your best ally

Yunbit's Cloud Business platform supports all the processes in the digitization of a company.

Sales, operations, finance, logistics, purchasing, HR; everything from a single access point. All the information is visible, updated and accessible from anywhere at any time.

A technology that is based on constant evolution because our improvements are continuous and extensible to all service users.

The Employee Portal

Yunbit's Employee Portal enables comprehensive management of your company's HR with efficiency and agility.

Several common problems that the Employee Portal solves:

- Lack of accessibility, usefulness and reliability of information.
- Processes that are virtually manual and require hours of management.
- Deficiencies in service quality towards employees and customers.
- Paper and filing costs.
- Lack of management visibility.

Additionally, the Employee Portal becomes:

- A powerful internal communication tool that helps improve how employees perceive the company.
- A space for participation and communication between employees that helps improve the work environment.
- An internal communication resource that helps establish the reputation of each organization's particular corporate identity: mission, vision, values, philosophy.
- A tool for knowledge that keep employees informed about new products, offers, campaigns and services that the company offers, as well as procedures and manuals.

- Access to updated, well-organized documentation, which eradicates errors and time-wasting caused by obsolete versions.
- A resource that facilitates communication, interaction and exchange between employees in different geographical locations.
- A management tool that simplifies manual processes pertaining to applications, requests, etc. and avoids paper-use and the costs it entails.
- Access to those in charge (of areas, line, departments...) for onboarding without needing to be physically available.
- Applications that avoid human error.
- A tool that is extensible to other departments: quality, communication... even finance.

Any HR software should reduce administrative times and tasks, be cost-effective, improve customer service and offer better control.

Yunbit's Employee Portal is also cloud-based, customizable, flexible, makes it possible to integrate all the different business areas, is up-to-date and economical.

Don't let today's software choice slow you down tomorrow

With Yunbit's Employee Portal you will be able to manage anything HR-related in your business that is important to your organization.

Though all HR management tools cover basic labor and documentation management, Yunbit offers a unique work environment, adapted to the organization's corporate identity, which also includes internal communication, labor management, participation and interaction.

Ample functionality that evolves with the market

FUNCTIONAL BLOCKS

LABOR MANAGEMENT AND PAYROLL

The tool gives you control of contracts, agreements, payroll, absences and certificates.

An easy-to-manage, accessible and secure tool.

INTERNAL COMMUNICATION, EMPLOYEE PORTAL

Based on four pillars: internal communication, participation and interaction, company-employee process automation and integration with other labor management solutions.

This tool improves company-employee communication and process management, by reducing costs, and improving employee satisfaction and knowledge management throughout the organization.

Additionally, Yunbit guarantees a constantly-evolving technological environment that is 100% flexible and adaptable to all sorts of companies and market trends. And that is something not just any software manufacturer can guarantee.

HR, HUMAN CAPITAL AND TALENT MANAGEMENT

Definition and control of career plans and training, performance reports, selection, logistics and facilities. All from the same platform that is adapted to the worker and business processes.

COMPANY-EMPLOYEE PROCESS AUTOMATION

Process automation improves efficiency, reduces costs and time spent on management and operations, such as expense sheets, company cars, help desk, applications and compensation services.

What Employee Portal offers that others don't

- Software with less obsolescence, because our work philosophy is based on evolution and constant improvement, focusing on the demands and development of the market and our customers. We opt for the most optimal solutions and the most advanced technology.
- No hidden hardware costs and no more wasting time and resources with updates. All updates and most of the improvements appear instantly on the tool.
- Constant improvements without need for manual intervention by the user for updates.
- Software that allows integration with other market tools or applications necessary for the business. In fact, you will be able to combine tools, integrating the ones you need with Yunbit's Business Cloud platform .
- A work environment that is 100% flexible and adaptable to the needs of every business.

- A comprehensive ERP system, linked to all your business information, the management of a company's different areas or departments from a single web access point.
- Adapted to a mobile environment.
- Competitive pricing for software that is on par with the most popular ones on the market. An unbeatable price.

Labor management can be linked to finance, accounting, sales, etc...

Our work methodology

We know that every organization has knowledge that adds value to its internal and external management, which is why from the get-go, and with well- thought out meetings, we conduct an initial study of the company, its HR department and its needs.

The complexity of the analysis depends on the extent of the processes the company would like to automate, the organization's corporate culture, the services the company would like to offer its employees, the personnel that will be using the tool, the information that will be stored in the portal, the functionalities it is to be equipped with (performance, selection, surveys, e-learning...), etc.

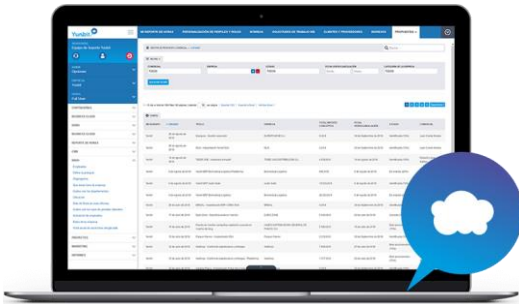

Once we are aware of the department's objectives, the company's corporate culture and the needs of the company as a whole, we make produce an approximation of the functional definition of the platform, i.e., what it should do, how it should do it, what information it will supply, what applications it will have and what will support them, etc.

We will then, progressively, proceed to the tool's implementation process within the organization by testing the functionality of the acquired software and providing training sessions for its users. A team specialized in developing and implementing business management tools will provide support throughout the process and get it off to a good start.
